Daesh Threatens Security of Whole Region: Ghani

KABUL - Addressing a group of Indian and Afghan journalists in New Delhi on Wednesday Afghan President Ashraf Ghani said that he has held inclusive discussions with Indian officials on security matters.

Referring to emerging threats relating to Daesh, Ghani said that the group poses a serious threat to regional security, warning that Daesh was worse than al-Qaeda.

Highlighting impacts of the military operation conducted by Pakistani military forces in Waziristan, Ghani said that the operation had displaced hundreds of militants which has impacted the security situation in Afghanistan.

Ghani stressed the fact that instability in Afghanistan will destabilize the whole region - adding that Daesh was in fact a major threat to world peace and stability.

He said: "With all apologies to Microsoft, if al-Qaeda was Windows One, Daesh is Windows Five. Terrorism is fast changing its ecology and morphology and its communication strategies."

"Why is this happening? Because state collapse enables these movements to seek spaces. ... (More on P4)...(1)
