Outlook Horoscope

Aries (Mar. 22-Apr.20)

You are traveling out beyond the Twilight Zone and well into the Outer Limits where the mundane world is but a faint memory. As much as you like exploring new territory, you might worry that you've gone too far this time. Instead of struggling to find your way back home, just open your senses to those around you. Reestablishing solid connections with others is more important than reaching a destination today.

Taurus (Apr.21-May 20)

You long for the comfort that stability brings, but may be deprived of the facts today. It's as if you're barreling ahead but are unable to see what's around the sharp bend. A little assurance goes a long way now because you're finding it difficult to trust your internal GPS. Although your family and friends might come to your rescue, they only confuse matters even more if they misunderstand your intentions.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

You might feel a little lost as you look to your future today. Although you may have the weekend off from work, you still could be dreaming about where you want your career path to take you. Don't be concerned if you're lacking a concrete plan at this time. Instead, cultivate your ambitions without worrying about someone else's possible judgment. Be fearless in the pursuit of what sets your soul on fire.

Cancer (June 21-July 20)

Establishing ambitious goals is a double-edged sword. On one hand, it inspires you to apply yourself with greater determination. But, on the other hand, it can set you up for failure if you fall short of your expectations. Nevertheless, you don't have to let discouragement sabotage your accomplishments.

Leo (July 21-Aug. 21)

It's such a blessing today when people offer you encouragement and support. Nevertheless, you still might feel like something is missing from what they bring to the cause. Your problem stems from the fact that you can tell when someone's heart isn't connected with their actions, and their lack of passion could make you feel unloved.

Virgo (Aug. 22-Sep 22)

You wish that your friends and relatives would pay more attention to your needs, but they seem to be wrapped up in their own worlds today. It's as if everyone is busy with their personal agendas and they will do whatever is necessary to achieve their goals. However, the potential for true cooperation is in the air. Combining your efforts compounds progress exponentially. Aristotle was defining synergy when he wrote, "The whole is greater than the sum of its parts."

Libra (Sep 23-Oct. 22)

You may not have a list of things to do, but you intuitively know what needs to be accomplished today. Unfortunately, people won't likely leave you alone now; they ask for more details, insist on your commitment and demand your loyalty. However, your enthusiasm to work overshadows your refusal to be too specific in your answers. Understandably, rigidity can create more problems.

Scorpio (Oct.23-Nov.22)

Being of service to others is particularly tricky since everyone seems to have very different ideas about what you should contribute today. Juggling the conflicting agendas is enough to make you crazy because you can't do it all. Meanwhile, you just want to be left alone with your creative muse, whether or not you have a specific inspiration in mind now.

Sagittarius (Nov.23-Dec.20)

You can easily visualize your success in the not-too-distant future, but you might not be enthused about doing the work to realize your dream. In fact, you may be feeling downright unmotivated today. Stop trying so hard; your well-intended efforts only stand in your own way now. What you need more than ever is a timeout so you can reestablish your equilibrium. The key to keeping your balance is knowing when you lost it.

Capricorn (Dec.21-Jan19)

Everything you see today appears like an opportunity to demonstrate your mastery of life. You want to deepen your friendships and you think that showing your competence gives people good reason to depend on you. Nevertheless, you may be unavailable to help someone else if you can't keep up with all the things on your plate now. Rather than trying to impress others, just put your shoulder to the wheel and continue to push forward little by little.

Aquarius (Jan 20-Feb.18)

You can be the friendliest person on the block, but you still prefer to keep your feelings under wraps. Nevertheless, it's nearly impossible to hide your emotions when they seem to leak out in every interpersonal interaction today. You have a lot of leeway when it comes to personal disclosure now, because everyone appears to be tolerant of your quirkiness.

Pisces (Feb.19-Mar.20)

You are like a psychic sponge today, soaking in vibrations from people all around you. Although your heightened empathy makes you more compassionate, you can take things too far now. Opening your heart allows everything to enter unfiltered, making it nearly impossible to separate your own personal feelings from those of everyone else. Groucho Marx quipped, "Be open-minded, but not so open-minded that your brains fall out."
