Taliban Hideouts Hit in Special Night Raid involving Airstrikes in Nangarhar

KABUL - The hideouts of the Taliban insurgents were targeted in special night operations involving airstrikes in eastern Nangarhar province of Afghanistan, leaving several militants dead, the local officials said Sunday. According to the officials, the operations were conducted late on Saturday night in the vicinity of Khogyani district. The provincial government media office in a statement confirmed the special operations in Khogyani district. The statement further added that six insurgents were killed after their hideouts were targeted in airstrikes in Hashim Khel area.

The former shadow district chief of the Taliban group was also among those killed, the statement said, adding that the special forces also conducted another operation in the same district last night. According to the provincial government, at least five insurgents were killed and four others were arrested alive during the operation. The local officials are saying that the identities of those killed and arrested will be released later. The anti-government armed militant groups including the Taliban insurgents have not commented regarding the report so far. ...(More on P4)...(17)

Couple Accused of Illicit Relations Shot Dead in Herat

HERAT CITY - A man and a woman have been killed on the charge of having illicit relationship in the Kohsan district of western Herat province. Jilani Farhad, the governor's spokesman, told Pajhwok Afghan News, the couple was gunned down with an AK-47 rifle in the Bonyad village of the district, last night. He added police had reached the crime scene and had investigations. Efforts were ongoing to bring the perpetrators to justice, the gubernatorial spokesman continued. According to Farhad, it is not clear yet whether the man and woman really had an illicit relationship. Meanwhile, Kohsan district governor Aminullah Sarwari confirmed the arrival of police for investigations and arresting the killers. Details about the incident will be known after police investigations. (Pajhwok)

Former HIA Commander Gunned Down in Baghlan

PUL-I-KHUMRI - Unidentified gunmen have shot dead a commander of the Hekmatyar-led Hezb-i-Islami Afghanistan (HIA) in northern Baghlan province, local officials said. Zabihullah Shuja, police spokesman, said that Ghani Amarkhel, one of the former HIA commanders, was taken out of his house before being shot dead in Chashma-i-Sher locality Saturday evening. He added police had initiated a manhunt for the killers. No militant group has so far claimed responsibility of the murder. Alam Jan Mujahid, a member of the Baghlan provincial council and an most important HIA leader, was killed in this province recently. Jan Mohammad Akrami, a resident of Pul-i-Khumri, expressed concerns over the increasing number of illegal gunmen in the province. He alleged police had failed to rein in the armed individuals roaming around the city. "The growing presence of armed men has sent the crime graph soaring. Increasing assassinations have to be prevented", he added. Hakim Khaleqi, another resident of Baghlan, said it was not the first time that illegal gunmen had committed murder, many other people had been killed by the groups lately, he added, stressing a stop to such crimes. Outlook Horoscope

Aries (Mar. 22-Apr.20)

It may appear as if your plans are falling apart, but nothing is quite as it seems today. Although your first impulse might be to jump in and try to sew up every little thread that starts to unravel, you'll only work yourself into a state of frustration. Instead, acknowledge that you can't just wave your magic wand now and make everything okay.

Taurus (Apr.21-May 20)

You're able to hold your course in the face of unrelenting pressure to change your destination. But fending off people who might slow you down is not the real problem. Unfortunately, an inkling of self-doubt could grow into your nemesis as the day wears on. However, shifting your reaction from cerebral to emotional changes everything in a moment.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)

You might aim all your pent-up aggression at one person today, but chances are it will be for naught. Instead of finding a scapegoat on which to pin blame, accept your role in the interpersonal dynamics that continue to stir up discomfort. However, you will benefit the most, not by speaking truth to power, but by following through when it comes to your integrity. Letting your emotions get the best of you can bring out the worst in you.

Cancer (June 21-July 20)

Although sharing your fantasies takes courage, it also requires a methodical approach today. Your feelings are running deeper now, so just blurting your truth at the first opportunity might seem out of context to others. Don't just jump directly to the punchline; tell your story from the beginning so everyone can follow along. Often, the fastest route isn't the best one when it comes to delivering your message.

Leo (July 21-Aug. 21)

Holding onto your feelings won't further your cause today, even if it seems safer to keep them out of sight. You might be less vulnerable when you're emotionally isolated, but there's too severe of a cost. Don't worry about micromanaging; if a conversation veers off course, let it. Paradoxically, the less control you maintain, the better the outcome - even if there are a few twists and turns along the way.

Virgo (Aug. 22-Sep 22)

You are receiving messages from the cosmos that remind you to stay focused while letting the distractions grab someone else. People might even overtly try to get you to join the party while you reassess the advantages of resisting any social activities. Although others probably mean well, you simply have too much on your plate today to seek additional forms of self-expression.

Libra (Sep 23-Oct. 22)

You desperately want everything to make sense today, but it doesn't. Just as all the separate pieces of information start to fall into place, you suddenly realize that your basic assumption is wrong. Truth slips out of your hands before you can firmly grasp it. It's as if reality is playing games with you by eluding your logic and testing your resolve. Paradoxically, it's easier to make a decision when you don't try to rationalize your choice.

Scorpio (Oct.23-Nov.22)

Appearances, including yours, aren't always something you can control. Much to your chagrin, everyone seems to know all about the very same things you wish to keep secret today. The Moon is visiting your passionate sign, reflecting your feelings through your attitude, regardless of what you say or do. Stop resisting the obvious and open your heart.

Sagittarius (Nov.23-Dec.20)

Of course, you know the difference between vivid fantasies and mundane realities. However, a deeper and more existential sense of self-doubt may be lurking beneath the surface now. Your uncertainty is not apparent to others but could stand between you and a magical moment. Unfortunately, your lack of confidence makes it tough to get over this little bump in the road. Just take a few steps back to regroup and try again.

Capricorn (Dec.21-Jan19)

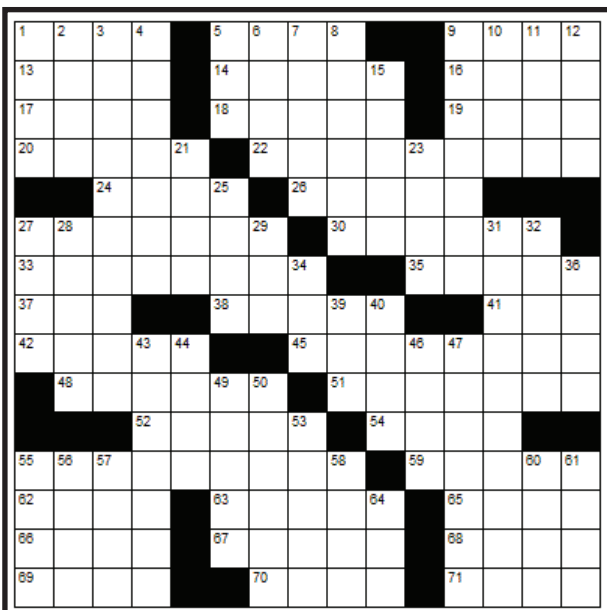

You can tell that something is off today, as if you're not living up to someone's expectations. Unfortunately, you don't know what others want from you today, and when asked they have nothing relevant to say. This weird energy makes it nearly impossible to go off on your own while your coworkers languish in denial. Share your concerns with your peers since you're all in this together.

Aquarius (Jan 20-Feb.18)

Although there are discussions yet to happen at work, everything seems to be rapidly moving along on the right trajectory now. You don't need to tell anyone about your long-range plans yet; they are your business and no one else's concern. In the meantime, step up to the plate and fiercely wield your power. It's not your problem if your behavior makes someone uncomfortable today.

Pisces (Feb.19-Mar.20)

People might assume you are more easygoing than you actually feel today. The Moon in fellow water sign Scorpio emphasizes the intensity of your emotions, but her Grand Trine softens your presentation. Nevertheless, you're not one to back down from any sort of idle threat. But rather than waiting to go on the defense, be clear about your boundaries right from the start. The more clarity there is about your preferences now.
