

Police Retake 40 Samangan Villages from Taliban

AIBAK - Police recaptured 40 villages from Taliban militants in Dara-i-Sauf Paeen district of northern Samangan province last night, paving the ground for elections in these villages, an official said on Monday.

Three Afghan local police personnel, including their commander, and two Taliban fighters were killed during the last night clashes, said police spokesman Munir Rahimi.

The Taliban attacked ALP posts in the district on Saturday night, forcing the forces to retreat and allowing the rebels to overrun 40 villages.

But on Sunday night, police recaptured these villages from insurgents in Maqsud locality and paved the ground for elections there, ...(More on P4)...(11)

30 Polling Stations in Kunduz Declared High Risk Areas

KUNDUZ CITY - Out of 220 polling stations set up in northern Kunduz province, people have registered as voters in only 98 stations and among these 30 stations face high security threats.

Rassoul Omar, Independent Election Commission (IEC) head for Kunduz, told Pajhwok Afghan News voter registration process did not take place in 122 polling stations of the province due to security problems.

"There are a total of 220 polling stations in Kunduz, but people visited only 98 of them," he said.

He added 18 of the polling stations faced medium and 12 other high security risks.

"The voting process may probably not take place in these polling stations for being very sensitive," he said. Omar ...(More on P4)...(12)
